SPRING CLEANING

Spring is the season of spring-cleaning, the return of winter and—spring cleaning. The first breath of Spring seems to arouse in the breast of the greatest woman an irresistible desire to turn the house inside out from cellar to garret. It is a yearly rite, an institution. No longer of use and discarded and replaced, necessary repairs are done where required, everything in fact put in ship-shape order for the busy season ahead. But the first same painstaking housewife spring-clean the human machines on which she depends to direct and accomplish this seemingly important work? Does she realize that she cannot replace the broken or worn-out mechanism that is her body, with which she must accomplish the daily duties of her small world? No, but the breaking down of the human machine can be prevented. The yearly physical examination is much more necessary for the beautiful and intricate body God has given man with which to do his work on earth, than the annual Spring Clean of the house and yard. A brilliant mind can accomplish so little if hampered by a broken body. Daily bread depends on a sound body. Why not make an appointment with your doctor this week and have that spring clean. Make it an annual affair.

OBITUARY

A very sad case to report is the untimely death of Edna Haderer, of Mayton (23 years of age), the beloved wife of Fred Haderer (47), who passed away at the Didsbury hospital on Tuesday Morning, April 2nd, following a brief illness. Parents and relatives of the deceased are passing through an afflictive mourning period, in that a baby son, two days old, was called home on Good Friday morning, instead being made in the Mayton cemetery on Easter Sunday.

Edna Haderer was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henshaw, of Kootenai Valley, whose hearts are torn with anguish at the loss of a greatly loved member of the family, the only child of the late Mrs. Henshaw. She was married to Fred Haderer, of Mayton, by Rev. J. A. McHenry, of Mayton, on Tuesday, March 11th, 1928. Her father, J. B. Henshaw, is a well-known farmer and stock raiser. Her mother, Mrs. J. B. Henshaw, is a well-known social worker and is active in the Mayton community.

The young couple were highly respected and well known throughout the district, which is now plunged in deep sorrow at the passing of a young life of promise, permitted only to live a happy wedded life of four years. The late Mrs. Haderer (47) is survived by her husband and a 3-year-old daughter, Muriel, parents and sister Alice. The funeral arrangements called for forwarding the remains to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haderer (47) on Thursday morning, April 4th, where services were held, commencing at the noon hour, and a service in the Mayton church at two o'clock. Interment took place in the Mayton cemetery.

The death occurred in the General Hospital, Didsbury, on Tuesday, March 19th, of Catherine Theresa Haderer, daughter Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Haderer. Catherine was 20 months old and was an exceptionally bright baby. Her death has been a severe blow to the family.

The funeral service conducted by Rev. F. Sullivan was held at St. Stephens Church, on Thursday, March 21st. Floral tributes were received from Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Durrer, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. YOUNG ORATORS IN FINAL CONTEST

Eighteen hundred persons were estimated to be present at the Southern Alberta oratorical finals in the First Baptist Church, Calgary, Thursday evening last.

Walter B. McDonald, 18 year old high school student of Red Deer, was declared winner over the thirteen other speakers of the southern half of the province in the contest sponsored by the Calgary Herald.

Through this victory the Red Deer student will meet Miss Gwen Grant of Grand Prairie, winner of the Northern Alberta section, in the provincial finals which will be held in Edmonton, Friday, April 12th. The winner on that date will go to Toronto, following which the Canadian champion will compete for International honors at Washington.

WEDDINGS

FULKERTH-TYLER

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Calgary, on Wednesday afternoon, March 27th, when Lillian Ann Tyler, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Wackett of Olds, became the bride of Russell Grey Fulkert, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fulkert of Didsbury. The bride was attended by her sister, Lettie Tyler while acting for the groom was his nephew, Mr. D. Fulkert.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. H. Wilkinson of Calgary. The happy couple having spent a short honeymoon are now residing east of Didsbury.

HARRIS-BRYAN

The South Hill Baptist Church, Vancouver, tastefully decorated by members of the congregation with Easter lilies and other spring flowers entwined with ivy formed a very pretty setting for the marriage of Lillian J. E. Harris, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Harris of Vancouver, to Miss Marjory Clara Bryan formerly of Edmonton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. C. Bingham of Grandview Baptist Church. Given in marriage by her mother, the bride chose as her only attendant, Mrs. C. Bentall as Matron of Honor. The groom was supported by Mr. C. Bentall, president of the Western Baptist Union.

Many beautiful gifts showed the love and esteem held by the many friends for the bride and groom. Contributed

BANK OF MONTREAL IN NEW OFFICES

New buildings and alterations in some of the business houses in Didsbury are noticeable lately.

The local branch of the Bank of Montreal which has taken over the former Union Bank building is now located in their spacious and commodious remodeled and redecorated quarters.

C. Wrightson & Son's meat market is now doing business in an up-to-date, re-modeled shop next door to Cressman Bros.' old stand.

W. G. Liesener's implement warehouse across the street from The Pioneer Office is undergoing alterations and is also being enlarged. We understand "W.G." intends locating his offices in the building also.

A modern curb gas and oil service station is nearing completion on the Edmonton highway just east of Barrett's garage. We understand it being erected by some Carstairs' owners.

A pretty shower in honor of the former matron of the Didsbury General Hospital, Miss O. Owen, whose marriage took place yesterday, was held at the Sunset Hotel, Didsbury, Friday evening last. The gifts were presented by little Jean Clemens who was dressed as a bride. The color scheme of the setting was pink and white with place cards in the form of miniature brides. A doll dressed as a bride adorned the table. Miss V. Sexsmith won first prize at cards and the bride-elect the consolation.

Those present were: Misses Owen, M. Johnson, V. Sexsmith, M. Saugstad, J. McCoy, J. Clemens, L. Knudsen, L. Piper, D. C.

The West's Ocean Port

Announcement that the rails of the Hudson Bay Railway had reached Churchill on Good Friday, is the most welcome news the people of Western Canada have received for some time, heralding, as it did, the realization of a long entertained hope. For many years Western Canada agitated for the building of a railway to the Bay. It was vigorous, even violently, opposed by Eastern Canada interests, and, politically speaking, the voice of the West was weak in comparison to that of the East. The West, however, kept up its campaign of education as to the merits and feasibility of the route, and ultimately all political parties in Canada became committed to the project.

Finally, plans for a Hudson Bay Railway assumed definite shape in 1910, when a branch line of the Canadian Northern was completed from Hudson Bay Junction, Sask., to The Pas, Manitoba, and the building of a Government line from The Pas to Hudson Bay was authorized by Parliament. Work commenced the following year with Churchill as the objective.

Following a change of Administration at Ottawa, Churchill was abandoned as the proposed terminal, and Port Nelson chosen. The location of the railroad was accordingly altered. The right-of-way was cleared and graded to Port Nelson and steel laid, before the end of 1916, as far as Kettle Rapids, 332 miles from The Pas.

Owing to the war and consequent lack of men and steel, operations were suspended and for some years only part of the completed railway was kept in repair.

The work thus commenced by the Liberals in 1910 was continued by the Conservatives until war, and the after-war period of financial depression stopped the work. The work, however, had only been carried on in a more or less half-hearted manner with the result that progress was slow, and the country, as a whole, lacked confidence in the undertaking, the East regarding it as a waste of public money and in the nature of a political sop to the West.

With the acceptance by Hon. C. A. Dunning of the portfolio of railways in the Mackenzie King Government, a marked change took place. It is an open secret that Mr. Dunning made the immediate and vigorous construction of the road a condition of his entry into the Government. He frankly told the people of the West that he regarded it as "his job" to complete the railway in the shortest possible space of time.

The task of reconditioning the roadbed which had fallen into disrepair was begun, and, in view of divergent views which prevailed as to the relative merits of Churchill and Nelson as terminal harbors, Mr. Dunning secured the services of the most eminent British harbor engineer to decide the question. He reported strongly in favor of Churchill, and his report was immediately accepted, and the road again diverted in that direction.

Since then there has been no let-up in construction. It has been pushed forward day and night, in season and out of season, with the gratifying result announced on Good Friday.

In the meantime Mr. Dunning grappled with the problem of building an effective harbor at Churchill and establishing the feasibility of the ocean route through Hudson Straits, Airplane and other surveys, radio, and every modern invention was called into use, and in two years public opinion in the West was not only justified, but the East was largely converted, especially as huge and very valuable mineral discoveries in the northland made accessible by the railway quickly followed.

Although both steel and telegraph have reached Churchill it will require some months yet to fully ballast the road to make it capable of efficiently handling trains. There is an enormous amount of work to be done to build necessary harbor facilities at Churchill. That work is in progress and being prosecuted with the same vigor as characterized the building of the railway in the last three years. Hundreds of carloads of supplies, material and equipment for the harbor are even now distributed along the railway to be rushed in at once now that the rails have been laid.

It is confidently anticipated that before the end of 1929 freight will be moving steadily from the prairies to the West's own ocean port or Churchill, and Mr. Dunning has already announced that the Crow's Nest Pass schedule of rates on grain will apply to the Hudson Bay route.

The new route will, it is believed, effect a veritable revolution in Western transportation. In preparation for it both of our great railway systems have been building north and south lines within recent years, whereas formerly their policy was to construct lines as to move everything from east to west and west to east.

With the completion of the Hudson Bay Railway one of Canada's ambitions is being realized. It is in these Western Provinces that depth is to be given to the Dominion, something it has lacked since Confederation brought a Dominion into existence consisting of a long narrow strip extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific just north of the International boundary line.

FLU Germs Breed In the Throat.

SOME SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS AGAINST INFLUENZA

Simple precautions taken now will enable you to fight dreaded "Flu" which is sweeping rapidly through the whole country. The germs of Influenza gain access to the body through the mouth and throat. Keep the throat healthy and you go a long way towards stopping the trouble. An effective means of prevention is to gargle the throat three or four times daily with Nervilleine. Half a teaspoonful of Nervilleine in water makes a most efficient gargle. The germ-killing properties of Nervilleine quickly destroy any bacteria in the mouth or throat. If the chest is sore, if the throat is hoarse, if you have a cough—be sure to rub the neck and chest with Nervilleine. Every drop of it will rub in, and out will come the congestion.

Of course it is absolutely necessary to house-clean the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills which stimulate the eliminating organs, and rid the system of disease-breeding germs. This combination treatment of Nervilleine and Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give prompt and entirely satisfactory results.

Big Amount For Research

Ontario Government Increasing the Contribution For This Purpose

In conformity with the Ontario Government's offer "dollar for dollar" plan of assistance for industrial research in the province of Ontario, a bill has been introduced in the Legislature increasing the contribution of the provincial government to the Ontario Industrial Research Foundation from $1,000,000, as provided in the 1928 act, to $2,500,000.

Last year legislation was provided for the subscribing by the Ontario government of $1,000,000 if the same amount were subscribed by private interests. So enthusiastic was the response that that amount has been over-subscribed and this amendment provides for its increase to $2,500,000, to be granted on the same terms.

Sore Corns Drop Off If You USE "Putnam's"

When you notice any sign of callosities on the feet or toes—that's the time to paint on a few drops of PUTNAM'S CORN EXTRACTOR. Do this, and you prevent corns. No matter if the corn is hard or soft. Let it be on top or between the toes. Putnam's will remove it without pain. Insist on PUTNAM'S CORN EXTRACTOR. It does the work—and roots out the corn, quickly and without pain.

The Up-Keep Of Roads

Well-constructed highways are necessary in Canada to meet the insistent demands of traffic, but well-maintained roads are even of more importance in the interest of economy. Consequently, provincial road administrative organs and engineers are devoting a great deal of thought and attention to the care and protection of roads. In 1927, the mileage of roads under maintenance in Canada under the patrol of gang system was 44,416 miles, at a cost of $16,624,617.

FOR MOTHERS OF YOUNG CHILDREN

Mothers are quick to praise anything which brings health and comfort to their little ones—any medicine that will make the baby well and keep him well will always receive hearty recommendation from the mother. That is why Baby's Own Tablets are so popular. Thousands of mothers throughout the country, not only use them for their own little ones but are always delighted to be able to recommend them to other mothers. Thousands of mothers have proved Baby's Own Tablets to be without an equal in relieving their little ones of any of the many minor ailments which arise out of a derangement of the stomach and bowels. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal laxative—easy to take but thorough in action. They banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers; expel worms and make the teething period easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The new underground railway station at Piccadilly Circus, London, was officially opened on December 10, 1928.

A Cure For Asthma. Give Asthma half a chance and it gains ground rapidly. But give it repeated treatments of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy and it will fall back even faster. Gold Fish Not So Delicate

Only temporary suspension of the activities of a bowl of gold fish resulted when the temperature dropped to 14 degrees above zero and the fish were encased in a solid cake of ice. They resumed their activity when the ice thawed. The temperature was the lowest in Marshfield at any time in the last twenty-five years.

Pensions Act Modified

Amendments Will Make It Easier For Alberta Cities

Amendments to the Old Age Pensions Act passed before the legislature prorogued, will bring some relief to the cities in connection with the fear that a great number of the old age pensioners will drift from the rural municipalities into the cities.

An amendment to section four provides that any person having been granted a pension whilst resident in a municipality or an improvement district, shall be deemed to continue to be a resident of that district so long as he continues to reside in the province. This was in line with the suggestion of G. H. Webster, Liberal, Calgary.

In connection with the maintenance clause, an amendment was passed providing that no person will be called upon to supply maintenance if his or her earnings are such that they do not come within the scope of the Income Tax Act.

YOU CAN'T DYE with Good Intentions

You can get results—after a fashion—with any old dye; but to do work you are proud of takes real anilines. That's why we put them in Diamond Dyes. They contain from three to five times more than other dyes on the market! Cost more to make? Surely. But you get them for the same price as other dyes.

Next time you want to dye, try them. See how easy it is to use them. Then compare the results. Note the absence of that re-dyed look; of streaking or spotting. See that they take none of the life out of the cloth. Observe how the colors keep their brilliance through wear and washing. Your dealer will refund your money if you don't agree Diamond Dyes are better dyes.

The white package of Diamond Dyes is the original "all-purpose" dye for any and every kind of material. It will dye or tint silk, wool, cotton, linen, rayon or any mixture of materials. SUBSIDY SYSTEM FOR PROVINCES IS CONDEMNED

Ottawa.—Manitoba would not have been "one cent better off today" had she retained all her natural resources from the time she was made a province, declared A. R. McMaster, K.C., senior counsel for the Dominion, appearing before the Manitoba natural resources commission and concluding his argument against the claims of the province for compensation from the Federal Government for alienated lands.

"Her natural resources," he said, referring to those which remained unalienated, "are now being returned. Those alienated are more than offset in value by the Dominion's expenditure in their administration since 1871. What Canada has done for Manitoba has more than compensated for any possible loss."

While admitting that to follow the order-in-council of the Federal cabinet, Manitoba must be placed in a position of equality with other provinces and must not be discriminated against, Mr. McMaster urged that "the Dominion must not be placed in a worse position than she would have been in had Manitoba kept her natural resources from the first and administered them herself."

The subsidy system, he declared, was vicious. He urged that the commission be chary in increasing such payments. It was a bad principle for one government to collect taxes and another to use them for revenue. The practice should be kept in as narrow confines as possible, curtailed as far as was practicable, in justice to all.

"Manitoba is not a poor sister," he continued. "If she is treated with lavishness there will be demands for similar treatment from east and west. One claim will lead to another, it may become an endless ring of demands upon the Federal Government."

One of two things would be the result of such a situation. Either Dominion service would have to be curtailed or else taxation would have to be increased. The one avenue open to the Government of Canada to increase revenue was through its customs duty, he believed. And this would touch the pocket of the consumer.

Mr. Justice Turgeon, chairman of the commission, asked Mr. McMaster what he would suggest in place of subsidies which he was condemning. Mr. McMaster replied that he would rather see a lump sum paid to Manitoba, if compensation were necessary, than have an increase in allowances. But that was his own opinion, he added. He had no instructions to offer any such suggestion.

Mr. Justice Turgeon pointed out that the subsidy system was provided for in the Confederation pact and was meant to take the place of surrendered avenues of revenue through customs duty.

Michigan Law Repealed

Famous Life - For - a - Pint Law Is Revoked

Lansing, Mich.—Michigan has revoked its famous "life-for-a-pint" law. Governor Fred W. Green signed the Watson House bill eliminating 120 "minor" felonies from the list of crimes which draw the life penalty for fourth offences.

Governor Green said he would commute the life sentences of Mrs. Ella Mae Miller, Channie Tripp, Tony Papich and others who are serving life sentences for liquor felonies.

Two Killed In Plane Accident

Pilot and Passenger Lose Lives In Crash At Khedive, Sask.

Khedive, Sask.—To the sudden panic of a passenger, unnerved by the swooping ascent and gyrations of the aeroplane in which he had sought the thrill of a first flight, is attributed the tragic crash here that cost the lives of Flying Instructor Roland Ford, of Regina, and John Sydoruk, a C.P.R. section foreman.

Trapped in the enclosed cockpit of a dual-control Velle Monocoupe when the right wing of the plane, in which the two were flying, fouled a telephone wire, they were plunged downward with terrific force, and death either came instantly from concussion, or else they perished in the flames that immediately enveloped the crumpled machine.

The coroner's jury which investigated the tragedy came to the merciful conclusion that the victims were either dead or stunned and were thus oblivious to suffering. On the other hand, a Regina pilot who visited the scene and examined the wreckage of the plane in the light of all the circumstances, expresses the opinion that the crash was not sufficient of itself to cause the deaths of Ford and his passenger. He believes the two fought vainly to escape from the blazing cabin before succumbing to the flames.

Scholarships For Research Workers

Students Of Outstanding Merit Have Been Selected For Awards

Ottawa.—Sixty of the applicants for post-graduate scholarships from the national research council of Canada have been granted either fellowships, studentships or bursaries for 1929 according to announcement made by the scholarships committee of the council. Out of the hundred applications before the council those of outstanding merit have been selected for the awards.

The list contains names throughout the breadth of the Dominion and allows for the expenditure of approximately $50,000 for research which will be followed at various Canadian universities.

The purpose of the annual endowment of individuals with money grants by the national research council is to assist in building up in Canada a corps of thoroughly trained research workers capable of undertaking and directing scientific research on Canadian industrial problems or in connection with the development of Canada's natural resources.

The scholarships go to university graduates who are following some line of scientific investigation at university laboratories.

Pacific Yields Clue To Aviation Tragedy

Parts Of Airplane Found May Solve Ocean Mystery

San Francisco, Cal.—Parts of an aeroplane, twisted into weird shapes and water soaked, were brought here to determine whether they might aid in the solution of a tragic ocean mystery, either during the Dole flight to Honolulu or army and navy manoeuvres off the coast.

Most of the evidence indicated they were parts of a United States government craft which disappeared in 1922 or 1923 during a flight off the Pacific coast, attendant at Mills Field, the municipal airport, said after a brief examination.

There were also several indications that the hardly distinguishable struts, rudder and frame might be parts of the plane in which Captain William P. Erwin, American war ace, and Alvin E. Schwadt were carried to their death while 500 miles from here on their way to Honolulu in 1927.

Aviation Course By Mail

Boston.—Learning to fly, by mail, is now possible under a plan being carried out by the Massachusetts State Department of Education. Since the department's recent announcement that it would offer a correspondence course in aeronautics, more than 400 inquiries have been received from 23 states of the union, Canada and Haiti.

CANADIANS IN U.S. ARE SUBJECT TO DEPORTATION

Washington.—Thousands of Canadians are certain to be affected by the "absolute deportation" law, which passed near the close of congress. Walter W. Husband, assistant secretary of Labor, one time commissioner-general of immigration, said the illegal residents are divided into three groups.

In the first group are those who entered this country without payment of the head tax of $8 between 1917 when the tax was first imposed, and June, 1921, when the first immigration exclusion act went into effect. This group is the least seriously affected. They cannot be deported as the statute of limitations has outlawed their offences. Steps are being taken in congress to validate their residence.

In the second group are those who entered without paying a head tax between June 3, 1921, and July 1, 1924, when the policy of strict exclusion went into effect. Members of this group also are in no danger of deportation, as the statute of limitations has operated to protect them from prosecution. But unless they take steps at once to validate their residence, they can never safely leave the country, even for a short visit to relatives in Canada. If they cross the international border they can never get back except by complying in all particulars with the present immigration laws.

Men and women who have slipped into the country since July 1, 1921, comprise the third group and are affected by "absolute deportation" law. They are not protected by any statute of limitations, as the 1924 law specially provided that the statute would not apply. The government reserved the right in that law to proceed against illegal residents at any time, even 20 years hence.

Many in this group have obtained employment, have built homes, and to all intents and purposes are permanent residents, but if they are known to the immigration authorities they are in grave danger. If they are arrested, found to have evaded immigration laws, and sentenced to deportation, they can never hope to return to the United States.

Express Confidence In Bracken Government

Labor Resolution Defeated 31 to 19 In Manitoba House

Winnipeg.—By a vote of 31 to 19, confidence in the Bracken Government was expressed by the Manitoba legislature, when a Labor resolution demanding an investigation of the Seven Sisters Falls power agreement by a committee of the House was defeated.

The issue had been regarded by the premier as one of want of confidence. John Queen, Labor leader, was the sponsor of the resolution.

In the division the government had the support of the Liberal members, including H. A. Robson, Liberal leader, Conservative, Independent and Labor members supported the Queen resolution.

When the session opened Premier Bracken and the leaders of the various groups paid tribute to the late Sir Hugh John Macdonald. By a standing vote, a resolution of sympathy was unanimously adopted.

Uruguayan Fliers Safe

Bogota, Colombia.—Two weary aviators for whom all hope had been abandoned have turned up at Tumaco, southernmost port of Colombia, after a two days' voyage in a small boat along the coasts of Ecuador and Colombia. The Uruguayan fliers declared they had been forced down in Northern Ecuador and their plane destroyed.

Valued At Four Billion

New York, N.Y.—Diamonds owned in the United States are valued at $4,000,000,000, the Continental Insurance Company has found. The per capita value of the country's holdings is greater than that of any other country. Few of the world's large diamonds are owned in this country.

Laurentian Spring

The photograph reproduced above is a purely amateur study, but it is a fine illustration of how the great Laurentian district north of Montreal lends itself to pictorial art. It is used by the Tourist Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway to lure the fisherman from his home as, although it does not demonstrate the piscatorial possibilities, it does show something of the great natural beauty which every true angler appreciates equally with opportunity to demonstrate his art.

EVERY INDUSTRY ORGANIZED

Every business man will do well to consider the question, "What am I contributing to the welfare of my organization?" The methods of conducting any business today are as unlike methods used 25 years ago, or even ten or five years ago, as thoughts of men regarding the airplane are unlike, comparing the same period. Remarkable developments have taken place. Consider the chain stores, the mail-order houses, the house-to-house canvasser. Today the local business man has competition undreamed of before.

Because of these changing methods of doing business, practically every line of business has organized itself, and industry is stressing the competition. It must face against other industries rather than the usual local competitive conditions existing between firms in the same business. And these organizations are accomplishing worlds of good in that higher ethics are taught, more information disseminated, better relations established, with the result that the average business man of today has higher regard and greater confidence in his fellowman.

The successful business man of today is usually an enthusiastic member of his association. He will give the benefits of his mistakes and experiences, purchased at great cost to himself, to his fellow members. Trade secrets are given away—new members are taught to avoid the errors of others; men learn in one year what formerly required three. The industry profits, and is raised to a higher standard. Some men join solely because of what they can get, others give and, in the development of the whole, profit.

Co-operation, rather than competition, has become the life of trade. If you are not succeeding as well as you think you should, ask yourself, "What am I doing for my association?" Do more for the good of the cause and in so doing you will be helping yourself.—Inklings, Barber-Hall Printing Co.

WE LIKE TO GET THE NEWS

The main aim of the weekly newspaper, as the name implies, is to give news of its own district. It may have other aims, such as to give merchants a chance to tell of their goods in its columns, or influence public opinion through its editorials; but first of all it must give the news. Some of this news is not easily obtained, and no editor can cover it without assistance. Especially is this true when you have visitors. Many ladies think personals are the most interesting reading in the whole paper. Your visitors are usually glad to have their names appear, so send them in. Sometimes people come in and give the impression that they are asking a favor when they want to insert the names of their friends who have been spending a few days with them. No person need feel that way about giving us news items, for we are glad to get them all.

T. W. Carlyle of Crystal Dairies, Ltd., Calgary, will be in Didsbury on Saturday afternoon of this week, and will address a meeting of local dairymen. At the time of going to press the meeting place has not been arranged but notice of same will appear in the post office and the creamery before Saturday.

Cinderella O'Reilly, an Irish comedy to be presented by the Innisfail Amateur Players, under the auspices of the Knox United Church Ladies Aid, Friday evening, April 12 has been declared a wonderful presentation and a real treat by the patrons who attended the Innisfail performance recently. Every part is well taken and Mrs. Smith as leading lady is a well talented actress. The company is accompanied by their own orchestra.

Recently Mrs. W. J. McCloy was hostess to the ladies of the Rebekah Lodge at a delightful social evening in honor of one of their members, Miss Owen. WANTED—To buy, some turkey hens. Apply to Mads Pedersen, Box 227, Didsbury. 15-1p

25th to June 1st, inclusive. The advisory council of Empire Shopping Week in Canada held a meeting recently, when J. E. Walsh, general manager of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, presided. It is expected that Hon. James Malcolm, Dominion Minister of Trade and Commerce, will be honorary president of the movement.

The purpose of Empire Shopping Week in Canada, in addition to many important educative functions, is to stimulate the purchase and sale of Empire produce and manufacturers in Canada. The underlying principle is that the products of the country in which the week is held—in this case Canada—are favored first in purchases, then the products of other parts of the Empire.

Local social activities seem to predominate of late, judging by the columns of the Pioneer this week.

The action of the local U.F.A. in suggesting that the local telephone operator on duty, when notified of a fire in the district, notify rural party line subscribers in that vicinity, is one to be commended. Other centres may well follow suit.

Here Are the Facts -- Read Them

Many people buy without investigation of facts and on snap or emotional judgment. Every year it is estimated a million car buyers change their ideas on their car after they have had it six months. Consider the following facts before purchasing your next car—and then decide for yourself which car offers the most value for the money.

1. Do you know that no car under $2,000 outside of Ford is putting on Houdaille double acting Hydraulic Shock Absorbers as standard equipment?
2. That no car under $1500 except Ford has triplex shatterproof windshield glass as standard equipment.
3. That Ford is the only car under Buick with three-quarter floating axle.
4. That Ford is the only car under Buick with Torque tube and Radius drive construction.
5. Ford is the only car under $1500 with five-bearing transmission.
6. That the New Ford has 25 roller and ball bearings in its chassis.
7. Ford is the only car under $1500 with three quarter irreversible steering system.
8. That Ford is one of the few cars built today that has five steel spoke wire wheels as standard equipment.
9. That wrist pins in motor are machined to .0002 and are of full floating type.
10. That aluminum alloy pistons are balanced to an accuracy of two grams. This is the finest balance of any piston in any car regardless of cost.
11. That when car is travelling 50 miles per hour—the revolutions per minute of motor is only 2063.
12. That gear ratio is 3.7.
13. That the actual road clearance of the New Ford is 9 1/2 inches—highest of any American stock car.
14. That the New Ford car has proven itself in public hands this past year as one of the finest performing cars ever built—from a standpoint of pick-up, hill climbing ability, speed and riding comfort.
15. That the New Ford has proven itself beyond any doubt as the most wonderful winter car ever built. It starts easily in cold weather and bucks snow beyond belief—ask the owners.
16. That service and dealer responsibility behind the New Ford is unequalled by that of any other car built.
17. That the New Ford holds the road at high speeds as good as cars being sold at highest prices.

A word from the publisher . . . about advertising

THE products you see consistently advertised in this paper are worthy of your confidence.

It takes two things to make a consistent advertiser. One is a strong conviction that he has a product that will hold its place in public favor despite competition. The other is actual proof that of . . . the increasing popularity of his product.

If his product will not stand the test of comparison he would simply be throwing his advertising investment away. If the buying public rejects his product after it has been offered in advertising he has thrown his advertising investment away.

That's why the manufacturer, the merchant, who advertises his merchandise consistently is very sure of his quality . . . and why you may be sure of it too.

Read the advertising here in your newspaper . . . it will guide you to the buying of worthy merchandise

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Completion of the Suffield branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway connecting Arrowwood and Blackie will be commenced during the present year, it is announced by D. C. Coleman, Western Vice-President of the C.P.R. It is planned to start grading during the summer and it is expected that the line will be ready for operation during the spring or summer of 1930. Completion of this road will bring a large section of important grain growing territory within a much closer hauling distance of Calgary and the Pacific Coast.

General satisfaction is expressed throughout the province with the results of the campaign to promote the use of better seed grain recently carried on under the direction of the Department of Agriculture. A marked improvement in the quality of the seed used last year was noted as the result of a similar campaign and it is hoped that a corresponding improvement will be apparent in the 1929 crop.

Car drivers' licenses in Alberta are to be set at fifty cents, and are to stand for an indefinite period unless revoked for cause, under a redraft of amendments to the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act that has been submitted to the legislature. But all motor drivers in the province are to take out licenses, the regulation to become effective on July 1. Compulsory insurance of taxis and liveries is required under another section of the bill and this is to become effective just as soon as the measure is assented to.

Two freight engines collided in the yards in Carstairs Good Friday about 1:30 p.m., causing considerable damage, but not delaying traffic to any extent. Snow was falling at the time and the oncoming train did not see the switching engine until too late, the two coming together with considerable force. Several cars were damaged and a few hogs in the first car were killed. No one was injured in the wreck and the line was cleared within a few hours.

The Alberta Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene decided at its annual meeting last week to proceed at once with the erection at Red Deer of the first unit of the permanent buildings to house the Western Canadian School for that denomination. The institution will be known as the Northern Bible College.

Farmers' attention is drawn to an advertisement of the Didsbury Colonization Board in this issue of the Pioneer in regard to those who require farm help during the coming season. Anyone desiring British or immigrants of other nationalities are asked to get in touch with any member of the Board or C. E. Reiber, Secretary.

Queen City's Crown

A YEAR AGO ↑ Today ↓

A year ago there was a great hole, nearly a city block in area, facing the Union Station at Toronto. Down in the bottom, half a dozen cranes were busy sorting huge pieces of steel which were being noisily rivetted as they were set, mecano like, into position.

On that site today stands the tallest building in the British Empire, the magnificent Royal York Hotel which, in two months more, will open the doors to its thousand rooms and welcome its first guests.

Remarkable as has been the speed with which this great Canadian Pacific Hotel has been erected, still more extraordinary to the man on the street must be the tremendous thought which went into the planning of what will be the most up-to-date institution of its kind in the world and in the working out of those arrangements that will ensure its guests the utmost in facilities and service. There will be, for instance, radio outlets in every room, and in the concert hall, Banquet hall and Ballroom, which have seating capacity for nearly seven thousand people, the most modern means of amplification have been installed to provide, not only that speakers and artists and musicians be thoroughly heard wherever they are speaking but, by connection through the radio room, in any other portion of the building. There is provision also for television, should this be developed, for moving picture and movietone projection.

With its own power plant and water-works, its emergency hospital and internal and outside transportation and communication systems, the Royal York Hotel is a complete city. It has its bank and brokers offices, its stores and shops, its community hall and recreation centres. Nothing which a progressive town might have has not been thought of and incorporated to advantage. Down in the basement is a complete printing establishment, a linotype and three presses.

With a tunnel entrance from Union Station, at the junction of all roads into the city, in the heart of "down-town" the site of the Royal York is strategic. With Lake Ontario before it, it is beautiful. The travelling contingent will join with the citizens of Toronto in their eager anticipation of the opening day in June.

When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient, and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Mild Weather Thaws Igloos

Eskimos Are Made Homeless By Action Of the Sun

It might be expected that winter would be winter at Tavane Bay. For Tavane Bay is 250 miles north of Fort Churchill, where the Hudson Bay Railway, through Manitoba's rich northern mineral fields, will end. But the North has been much maligned. Even the Eskimos will tell you that. As usual, this past winter, the Eskimos of Tavane Bay built their igloos, their little round houses of snow and ice. As usual they were buried now and again by blizzards. But quite out of the usual was the thaw which struck them just after Christmas. The temperature soared to 21 degrees above zero. The walls of the igloos collapsed, and dozens of families were made homeless. Yet the Eskimos were cheerful. Their attitude was: "Who said our country was frozen up?" And building materials were cheap. As soon as the weather was normal again, they set to work and rebuilt.

Escalloped Macaroni With Cheese

- 1¼ cupfuls grated American cheese
- 1½ tablespoonfuls flour.
- 1½ tablespoonfuls butter or butter substitute.
- ½ teaspoonful salt, scant.

Make a white sauce of the flour, butter, seasonings and the milk undiluted. Stir in the macaroni. Thoroughly oil a rather shallow baking dish, put in a layer of the macaroni, then one of the cheese, continuing in this way until all is used and making the last layer one of cheese. Bake in a moderate oven until browned, about thirty-five minutes.

The Oil For the Farmer.—A bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the farm house will save many a journey for the doctor. It is not only good for the children when taken with colds and croup, and for the mature who suffer from pains and aches, but there are directions for its use on sick cattle. There should always be a bottle of it in the home.

Alberta's farm workers received higher wages in 1928 than those of any other province in Canada with the exception of British Columbia.

Bible Three Centuries Old

Was Used To Swear In New Vice-President Of United States

A most unusual Bible was used to swear in the new Vice-President of the United States, Chas. Curtis, of Kansas. It is the property of E. M. Geis, of Salina, Kansas, and is 350 years old. The Bible has been in the Geis family at least five generations. It was printed in Cologne, Germany, in 1584, and was copyrighted by Emperor Ferdinand. It is bound in wild boar skin with wooden inner covers. The book is printed in two tones, red and black, in clear faced type, and contains many woodcut pictures. One scene shows an angel driving the devil out of Paradise. Satan is shown as a large horned dragon. On the frontispiece, which bears the German imperial seal, are depicted a series of scenes, the first being the medieval artist's conception of the fall of man. Eve is shown handing Adam an apple. The second is of an angel driving the two out of the Garden of Eden.

A TIRED FEELING IN SPRINGTIME

Not Sick, But Not Up To the Mark—You Need the Help Of That Sterling Tonic, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—They Give New Vitality.

With the passing of winter many people feel weak, depressed and easily tired. The body lacks the vital force and energy pure blood alone can give. In a word, while not exactly sick, the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon them. A blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic is needed to give renewed health and energy. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an all-round blood builder and nerve tonic but are especially useful in the spring. Every dose helps to make new, rich, red blood and with this new blood returning strength, cheerfulness and good health quickly follow.

If you are pale, easily tired, or breathless at the least exertion, if your complexion is poor or you are troubled with pimples or eruptions, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are just what you need to put you right. If you have twinges of rheumatism, are subject to headaches and backaches, if you are irritable and nervous, if your sleep does not refresh you, or your appetite is poor, you need the treatment Dr. Williams' Pink Pills alone can give—you need the new blood, new strength and new energy this medicine always brings. Mr. A. Marcotte, North Ham, Que., writes:—"I have found great benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I began using them I was in a badly run-down condition, and at times felt scarcely able to work. With so thorough a preparation at hand as Miller's Worm Powders the mother who allows her children to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjected to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy, and will be stunted in its growth. It is a merciful act to rid it of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done without difficulty.

HEZEKIAH LEADS HIS PEOPLE BACK TO GOD

Golden Text: "Jehovah your God is gracious and merciful." 2 Chronicles 30:9

Lesson: 2 Chronicles 30:1-27.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 145:8-17.

Explanations and Comments

Ritual Was Made For Man and Not Man For Ritual, verses 1-4. Nisan, the first month of the Jewish year, corresponding to our month of April, was the regular time for keeping the Passover. In the reign of Hezekiah, however, the Passover could not be kept at that time, because a sufficient number of the priests had not sanctified themselves (had not undergone certain washings, abstinence and forms), nor had the people assembled at Jerusalem owing to the fact that the temple was not cleansed until the sixteenth day of Nisan, and the fourteenth day was the time for beginning the Passover. Accordingly, the King with the princes, and all the assembly in Jerusalem, had taken counsel together and had agreed to keep the Passover in the second month. The law (Numbers 9:10, 11) allowed those who for good reasons were prevented from observing the Passover at the regular time to celebrate it in the second month, and this decision seemed right to the king and the whole assembly.

Dr. Charles Reynolds Brown contrasts Hezekiah's broad-minded action with the narrow scruples of those chief priests and Pharisees who were intent upon putting Christ to death upon the cross at another Passover, and who would not venture into Pilate's judgment hall lest their holy feet should suffer defilement and make them unfit to share in the sacred feast. "No one is entitled to speak with greater authority on the limitations of ritual than a strong advocate of the sanctity of ritual like the Chronicler; and we may well note, as one of the most conspicuous marks of his inspiration, the sanctified common sense shown by his frank and sympathetic record of irregularities of Hezekiah's Passover. It says much for the healthy tone of the temple community in his day that he does not attempt to reconcile the practice of Hezekiah with the law of Moses by any harmonistic quibbles."—W. H. Bennett. "Everything regarding form is elastic in the interests of the soul."—W. L. Watkinson.

Donald turned to Wainwright. "Are you going to let her run? Is it safe for her to enter a race with all these men?"

"I couldn't stop her now, and besides," he added with a touch of pride, "she can hold her own with any of them."

The old trapper made his way to Donald's side. His leathery old face, with its multitudinous wrinkles, wore a perturbed expression. "That feller Lafonte is cultus. He's full of dirty tricks; 'tain't safe for Connie to ride."

Donald turned anxiously to Wainwright.

Connie's father shook his head. "I am afraid it is too late now." Then in a lower voice he added: "You must know the reason for her entering this race."

Donald looked puzzled for a instant. Suddenly it dawned on him. "The purse?"

Wainwright nodded. "It would break her heart if I forbade her to ride, now that she has gone this far. She must have decided suddenly, as she never mentioned it to me."

The Rennie Company had put up a purse of two hundred and fifty dollars. There was to be a collection taken after the race to add to this purse.

The horses trotted down the course. Connie's was rearing and prancing, and it was with difficulty that she managed to get him to join the others. She leaned forward to whisper words of quieting in this twitching ears. Down the course they came. They were in nice alignment as they passed the judges' stand.

"Go!"

Connie on her spotted cayuse showed a bright splash of colour in the midst of her darker competitors. Lafonte's dark face lighted with a savage gleam as he swung his horse to the inside or "pole."

Running neck and neck with him was his hated rival, Paul John, leaning low on his horse's neck and shouting unintelligibly in Chinook. Connie was with the stragglers five lengths in the rear. This was new to Pegasus, and he was bewildered by the crowding horses about him. As they turned the corner of the course, Lafonte's horse stumbled, and before he righted Paul John had slipped into the lead. Cursing wildly, Lafonte settled himself in the saddle, his horse's head at the flank of his rival.

Hundreds of times Pegasus had travelled this field with Connie clinging to his back, slowing up for shrubs and trees and making sudden bursts of speed in the open. That had been vastly different to being surrounded by running horses and listening to the wild cries of their riders and the roaring of the excited crowd.

At the moment Lafonte lost the point of vantage to his rival, Connie leaned forward and emitted a peculiar clucking sound at the same time striking her moccasined feet into the horse's sides. Pegasus's ears twitched back at the sound of the voice he loved. "Now I know what you want," he seemed to say, as his beautiful neck stretched out and his hoofs spurned the ground. His graceful body lowered until it appeared to the spectators as though he were just skimming the earth. He moved with a springy stride, the muscles of his sinewy frame working with a sliding movement beneath the glossy skin. Gradually he drew away from the horses travelling with him. Foot by foot he crawled upon the leaders.

The party in the judges' stand came to their feet to shout approval. The girls were cheering wildly for Connie as she crept nearer the front.

Donald was leaning forward with flushed face, his eyes glued to the spotted cayuse, a deep admiration in his heart for the intrepid little rider.

Little Andy jumped on the rail. "Strike me pink!" he yelled, "look at that 'ces run!" His eyes were bright with excitement. "A 'undred dollars on the spotted 'oss!" he shouted hysterically.

"I'll take you," said a voice. "Ere you are, mate; let's make 'er two 'undred. I'm for me 'ome girl. She saved me blin'kin' life, God bless 'er!"

As they neared one of the corduroy bridges Connie was neck and neck with Lafonte. The latter glanced up as Pegasus came opposite. The roar of the crowd came dimly to Connie's ears above the swish of air and the rumble of hoofs as they struck the culvert. An evil look crossed the half-breed's face. He swung his horse sharply to the right. Connie's horse floundered. Struggling to right himself, he fell off the bridge and landed with a dull thud on the soft ground below. The forward motion of the cayuse had stopped so suddenly that Connie was thrown like a projectile to a clump of bushes fifteen feet distant.

For an instant the big crowd was paralyzed. Then there went up a great groan of horror. The old trapper came to his feet, his eyes flaming, a hectic flush on his cheeks. Like a flash his hand flew to his six-shooter, and the long-barrelled Colt was trained on Lafonte. As he pulled the trigger Douglas struck his arm, and the bullet sped harmlessly over the horseman's head.

"My God!"

The words whistled through the set teeth of big Jack Gillis. "Let me get at him!" he cried hoarsely, as, pale of face, he struggled through the crowd. He would have thrown himself in front of the oncoming rider if strong hands had not clutched and held him. Connie's father fell back a step as if struck a sudden blow, his eyes wide and staring. Andy's head fell forward, and he groaned aloud. Janet covered her face with her hands and sat down weakly.

Donald leaned from the judges' stand, his face pale as death. A vision of Connie's broken body came before his eyes. "Oh, God!" he cried aloud in a voice vibrant with pain. He covered his eyes as though in dread of looking at the spot where she had fallen.

A shout came from the crowd—then a cheer that seemed to rock the hills. "Look! look!" they shouted.

Donald's heart was beating tumultuously. Could he believe his eyes? Connie was standing upright. She appeared to sway slightly; then, like a flash, she was at her horse's head. Trembling and snorting, Pegasus came to his feet. With a bound she was on his back and seized the reins. Pegasus reared like a stag and was off down the course at the tail end of the race.

As Connie passed the judges' stand she was well up with the tall-riders and gaining steadily. Her face was pale and tense. A smear of red showed on her arm, and a little stream of blood trickled down her forehead from the wound invisible in the thickness of her hair.

The crowd became suddenly quiet as Connie thundered past—a silent tribute to her glorious pluck. But as she crept toward her original position they roared their applause. Pegasus was showing an endurance and speed that had never been equalled in all of that district. As they turned to come down the home-stretch Connie was a good fifty yards behind the leaders. Lafonte's wiry cayuse was again in the lead by a few feet.

The shock and strain were beginning to tell on Connie. She leaned forward and in a broken, trembling voice she cried: "Oh, Peggy! Win, Peggy! Please! Please! I don't want to lose! I've got to win! Go! Go!" She was sobbing hysterically now, and her small hands were patting the horse's neck.

Pegasus had never heard that tone of supplication in the sweet voice of his mistress before. Nobly he responded to the call. She felt his body lower under her as he sat himself to the herculean task of overcoming his rivals' enormous lead.

Lafonte was using the whip. Paul John, hanging so persistently to his flank, angered him. They thundered across the corduroy, and at the sound of Pegasus's hoofs on the cedar poles Lafonte turned to glance behind. A look of astonishment crossed his face as he saw the golden-haired rider so close. With a curse he struck his horse a brutal blow that caused the animal to lose its stride momentarily and fall back in line with Paul John.

Slowly, but surely, Connie's spotted cayuse was closing the gap between himself and the two leaders, sweeping along at a terrific pace, his body and limbs moving with the rhythmic grace of a thoroughbred. Connie was leaning so low that the heavy white mane of her horse was brushing her face. Her hair was streaming in the wind like fine-spun gold. The party in the judges' stand rushed to the railing, leaned anxiously forward to get a glimpse of the running horses as they turned the corner, and cheered lustily as the three riders thundered over the small bridge and came toward the finishing line. Connie was at Lafonte's flank now.

Pegasus's remarkable speed fanned the spectators' excitement to a fever heat. Andy had done so much shouting that his voice was reduced to a whisper. Standing on the top rail, his arms waving, he was shouting huskily, "Come on, Connie! Come on, Connie!"

Donald's dark eyes were glowing as he watched the slender figure clinging to the flying horse's bare back. "What a pity if she loses," he said under his breath. Leaping to the rail, he joined in the shouts of encouragement to the straining Pegasus.

With one hundred yards to go, Connie uttered one last appeal to her flying steed. Above the drumming of hoofs the spectators heard her voice ring in passionate entreaty. "Now, Peg! Now! Go! Go!"

With nostrils distended, his breath coming in choking gasps, his eyes bulging, and the voice of his adored mistress ringing in his ears, the gallant animal with a burst of speed that made the onlookers marvel, ranged himself alongside his labouring rivals.

Ten yards from the finish—five yards—they were neck and neck. Then, summoning his last ounce of strength, Pegasus leaped forward as though he would annihilate time and distance. With eyes nearly blinded with dirt tears and the roaring air, Connie saw Pegasus hurl himself past the winning post—a winner by half a length!

The ear-splitting roar that went up from the race-mad crowd must have caused the marmots on the slides near the distant glaciers to seek their holes in terror. A flock of mallard ducks, which had floated peacefully near the centre of the placid lake throughout the day's commotion, rose with frightened cries to seek a more secluded spot in which to finish their afternoon's siesta.

The crowd had seemingly gone mad. The atmosphere pulsated with a wild tumult of sound. Hats were thrown in air and throats were strained with shouting.

Donald found himself with his arms about Andy, dancing and cheering in a frenzy of joy.

FARMERS OWN LARGEST BUSINESS IN CANADA

With the recent completion of nearly five hundred grain elevators at country market points in Western Canada the Canadian Wheat Pool, the world's largest farmers' co-operative marketing organization, now owns and operates a total of 1,417 such elevators with a combined capacity of 52,560,000 bushels. In addition, the pool has twelve terminal elevators located at Fort William, Port Arthur, Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Buffalo and Winnipeg, with a total capacity of 33,606,000 bushels, or an aggregate capacity for all pool elevators of 86,166,000 bushels. The pool elevators could therefore at one time hold about one-fifth of the normal wheat production of Western Canada.

This impressive total of elevators has been built or acquired by the pool since its first year of operation in 1924. The membership of the pool is now about 145,000 actual farmers in Western Canada, and the annual gross turnover exceeds $380,000,000. In point of turnover the wheat pools represent the largest business in Canada except the Canadian Federal Government.
